FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. SATURDAY, March t. There was only a sluggish movement in security prices to-day, and as the business done was obviously nine-tenths professional the market was an unimportant affair. In the main up to the last fifteen minutes of the Stock Exchange session the tendency of values was upward. After then the market declined, leaving quotations changed in but a trivial way from those at the end of business the day before The Kansas City Southern common and preferred stocks, which were the feature of the market yesterday, sold early to-day somewhat higher than they did previously but then reacted on profit taking. Their place, however, in market prominence was assumed by the Missouri. Kansas and Texas stocks, which made a sharp rise. If there was any reason for this diversion of interest on the part of speculators it was unknown. The railway equipment stocks, or some of them, were inclined to firmness by reason of increasing indications that the low prices quoted for iron and steel goods had stimulated and were likely to stimulate railroad buying if only in a moderate degree. Otherwise to-day the market was without any notable characteristic whatever. Sterling exchange was strong, repre-senting the natural transfer of money to other quarters of the world where higher interest rates are paid for it. The weekly bank statement was utterly without significance, both the actual and average figures of the statement reporting a slight decrease in the bank surplus. Speaking generally, the end of the week witnesses a change for the better in financial sentiment to this extent, that it is realized that the Roosevelt government of hotheadedness and sensationalism is at last actually over. Another and so far as can be seen a far more conserva-tive man is at the head of the nation, and although he may institute prosecutions of corporations there will be no fire in the night speeches with attendant inflammation of jealousy, class hatred and legislative injustice in every part of the country. The stock market itself through the try: The stock market itself through the leaves off with prices not greatly changed from those of last Monday. Weakness predominated in the fore part of the period and strength later, while the quantity of dealings was considerably less than in the week before. The market is reflecting the absence from the scene of action of many important financiers and the unwillingness to make ventures on the part of men of this class who are still in attendance at their daily business. Nevertheless a more encouraged feel ing, aside from that based on political developments, is discernible in Wall treet. The one great uncertainty now nging over both the security market and the conduct of general business relations is that pertaining to the tariff, but the weight of evidence gathers that the time occupied in the enactment of the new tariff laws will be a good deal shorter han was anticipated some months ago and that there is in fact a consensus beween the national Administration and the leaders of Congress, both Democratic as well as Republican, that the new bill should be rushed to its passage as speedily as possible. Again, all indications are to the effect that the wage reductions now in progress in the iron and steel world will be accomplished with little if any detay. These reductions are taking place in every quarter of the trade except in same where wages are governed by a sliding scale or by contracts that are still in force. Against such a broad policy as this the labor unions cannot make much headway, espedially as the members of these unions realize as well as any one elde that business is dull. It is clear that the cuts in iron and steel prices that have been made have helped business, the New York Central's big order for rails and new equipment being a signal case in point. and taking the industry of the country . a whole it is manifest that the tendence fairs is markedly toward ment. With the exception of the State of Texas, where something of a drought prevails, there has been a fall of rain on snow over the country in the last month which has amply repaired the damage done by the exceptional dryness of last fall and left the winter wheat crop, as far as can be seen, in full average condition. It must be said that it would be a matter of delight in every direction except possibly on the part of the speculators immediately concerned if there should be a breakdown of the operations for a rise in wheat, chiefly centring in the Chicago market. That there was a basis for higher prices for wheat this season was unquestioned in view of the shortage of wheat supplies the world over, but the inovement here has taken on the dimensions of an old fashioned corner in wheat with the usual result of diverting our 24500 Un Pac... 17534 17434 export trade in the article to Argentina 994 Un Pac pf 9514 9514 export trade in the article to Argentina and other exporting countries and of throwing the milling business of the land into confusion.
